

Press release 18 August 2008

The international scientific conventions converge towards Lille!

No holiday season for the Lille meetings industry. "The most accessible destination in the world » (dixit MPI Belgium President) confirmed in the last weeks, several international scientific conventions, which will take place in Lille Grand Palais among which:

SBS – Society of biomolecular Sciences
April 2009 – 2800 delegates – 5 days - 15 000 sqm of exhibition

CEDH – European Convention on Homeopathy research and learning
September 2009 - 500 delegates– 3 days – 1000 sqm of exhibition

EuroBio 2009
September 2009 – 4 days – 1300 delegates– 290 exhibitors* (* in 2007)

EuroBiO is in charge of bringing together the whole communities of the biotechnologies' sector: companies of biotechnologies, projects in incubation, students, researchers, institutions of public research, major companies in the pharmaceutical sector, agribusiness and environment, local authorities, clusters, bio poles and bio incubators, authorities...

ALFEDIAM – French speaking association for the study of diabetes and metabolic diseases.
March 2010 - 3000 delegates– 4 days– 10 000 sqm of exhibition.

For more info:

Lille Convention Bureau

Karen Grandé karen@meeting-lille.com or by phone: +33 3 59 56 21 87